Nothing can replace the warmth and connections made between parent and child than a shared read-aloud. Enjoy this precious time! Choose a story, or two, and TALK about the story together!

- Do parts of the story remind each of you of something in your own life?
- Do the characters remind you of people you've met? Would you want to be friends with them? Why?
- Tell each other some reasons why you liked the story (or not!)
- How does this story compare with other books by the same author?
- Make up a new ending for the story!
- Is the title good for the story? Do you have a better one?
